

Your Partner in Procurement Transformation

Procurement plays a central role in the effectiveness of government “business.” Buyers must be able to fulfill time-sensitive customer requests accurately and cost-effectively. That level of efficiency requires your people, processes and technology to be in sync. That is where NIGP Consulting comes in. Our team of public procurement experts will ensure your decisions, and ultimately your spend, are founded upon industry best practices and compliant with ever-evolving government standards, statutes, policies and procedures.

Who Are NIGP Consultants?

NIGP consultants are certified public procurement professionals who have served as a manager, director or purchasing agent for at least one public sector agency. Some have served as the procurement director for entire states or cities. Each has an average of 18 years of “in the trenches” experience.

They understand the unique circumstances impacting government procurement and are exceptionally skilled at effecting meaningful change to the benefit of your agency, customers, suppliers and constituents.

In other words, every NIGP Consultant has been exactly where you are now.

Who Do We Help?

Any government entity that wants to transform procurement, including:

- Federal agencies
- State agencies
- City, county, municipal agencies
- Airports
- Public safety agencies
- K-12 and higher education institutes

How We Can Help You

As NIGP consultants, we like to think of ourselves as an extension of your team. Yes, we work for you. But, more importantly, we work with you as strategic partners to identify the ways in which you can streamline and strengthen your procurement function. We can assist you with:

- | | |
|---|---|
|  Procurement / business system maximization |  Legislation, statutes and codes enablement |
|  Interdepartmental relationships |  Benchmarking and best practices |
|  Organization and staffing |  Performance evaluation |
|  Management reporting and forecasting |  Purchasing policies and procedures |
|  Records management |  Project management |

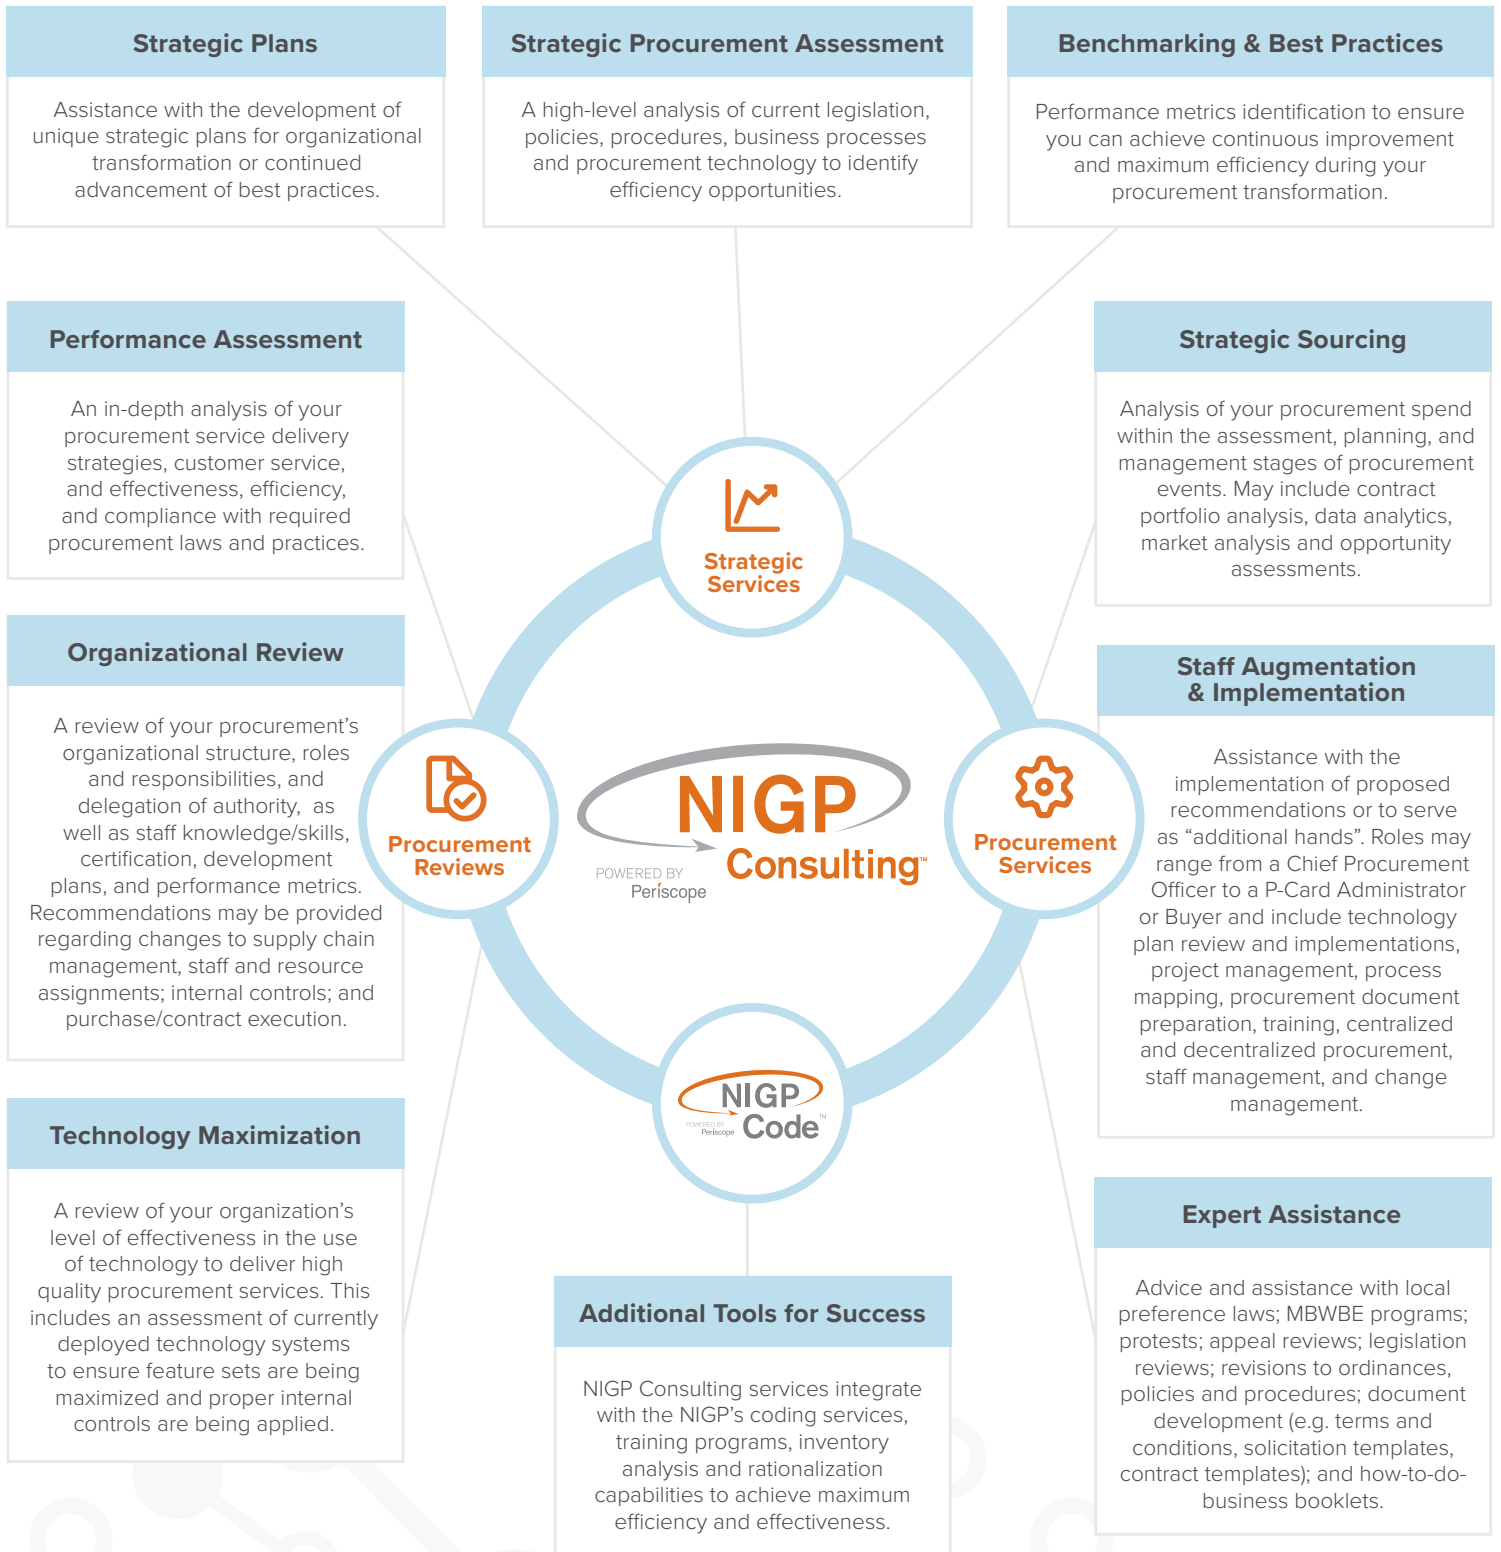

How We Work

Our NIGP Consultants will thoroughly assess your current procurement practices, processes, procedures and policies, consulting with your team, customers, suppliers and agency partners as necessary. We will then provide a detailed analysis of current challenges and a focused action plan with relevant solutions that will help you align business practices, eradicate waste in your processes and maximize the value of every dollar.

“The District recently completed a strategic procurement assessment with NIGP Consulting and I believe that it was a very worthwhile endeavor. The process was smooth and the consultant extremely knowledgeable in public procurement. The final report had great information specific to our unique needs and is being used as a roadmap for future changes in our organization.”
